

Experience

Throughout my career in graphic design I have focused on visual communication, identity development, and product design. I consider my strengths to be generating unique visual solutions in order to represent specific ideas and characteristics, structuring and organizing information to enhance clarity and flow, and maintaining the appearance of a company or product throughout the totality of all visual elements. My experience ranges from simple stationary design, to full on company branding including logo development, stationary, ad campaigns, brochures, promotional posters, displays, packaging, and website design.

I have a solid knowledge base with the Adobe Creative Suite programs on both Macintosh and Windows platforms, and I am familiar with Macromedia Fireworks and Dreamweaver.
